

Faith and Citizenship

A free workshop with Dr. Martin Lohrmann,
Assistant Professor of Lutheran Confessions and Heritage,
Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque

Sunday, September 24, Noon-2:30pm

Session One, Noon-1pm: Reformation Initiatives for the Common Good

Learn how the teachings of Martin Luther and his fellow reformers transformed the concept of poverty, contributed to groundbreaking social welfare legislation, supported the emergence of public education, and more.

15-minute Break, with dessert and coffee [about 1pm]

Session Two, 1:15-2:30pm: Living Our Faith as Citizens Today

Discover how Lutheran teaching on the Christian's calling in society can equip us for being a more robustly "public church" in our own time and place. Participants will work together to apply examples from reformation history to the challenges of the present.

Lunch is included and will be served immediately following the 10:30am service.

Dr. Lohrmann will also be our guest preacher at the 8am and 10:30 services this day.
